Men's competition

Boxers compete in three round bouts, each lasting three minutes, with a one minute rest period between the rounds. The losers are automatically eliminated, and the winners progress through the following phases until two boxers are left to box for the gold medal. The winner is awarded the gold medal and the loser, the silver medal. Two bronze medals are awarded to the losers of the semifinals.

Only one boxer per weight category per NOC is permitted.

Women's competition

Boxers compete in four round bouts, each lasting two minutes, with a one minute rest period between the rounds. The losers are automatically eliminated, and the winners progress through the following phases until two boxers are left to box for the gold medal. The winner is awarded the gold medal and the loser, the silver medal. Two bronze medals are awarded to the losers of the semifinals.

Only one boxer per weight category per NOC is permitted.

Differences between the AIBA World Championships and the Olympic Games

At the AIBA World Championships there are more boxers, as quotas for participation and qualification criteria are different. Also, there are 10 weight categories for the women's competition.

Changes since the London 2012 Olympic Games

A new method of calculating the scores has been introduced. This scoring is now based on the 10 points must system. The 46-49kg and up to 64kg boxers will wear 10 ounce gloves, boxers 69kg and above will wear 12 ounce gloves.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Gloves, Bandages, Headguards, Gumshields (Teeth protectors)

In order to protect boxers from injuries, the AIBA rules require boxers to wear gloves weighing 10 and 12 ounces (284 grammes), a bandage not longer than 4.5 metres and not shorter than 2.5 metres on each hand and gumshields.

Weigh-In and Medical Examination

The General Weigh-In and Medical Examination takes place on the day before the first day of men's competition. On each day of competition there is a Weigh-In and Medical Examination of all boxers competing that day.

Judging and Scoring Format

The scoring system will be based on a "Ten Point Must System". The five Judges selected for a bout will each randomly select a position around the ring when they arrive on the field of play. Just before starting each bout, the scoring system will randomly select three out of the five Judges, and only the scores of these three Judges will be counted. At the end of each round, each Judge must determine the winning boxer of that round by awarding a score of ten points and by awarding nine or less points - down to six - to the losing boxer, based on their judgment as to the degree by which the opponent lost the round.

Warnings will be applied in each round and a point will be deducted from each judge total score.

Possible decisions for the win will be as follows: Win on Points (WP), Technical Knockout (TKO), Technical Knockout - Injury (TKO-I), Knockout (KO), Walkover (WO), Disqualification (DSQ).

Tie Break Rules

If the total scores awarded by each selected Judge, including any deduction, are equal at the end of the bout, Judges must record in the scoring system who in their opinion is the winner of the bout.

They will only be requested to do so if:

- One of the other two judges also awarded equal scores, or
- The two other judges appointed different winners, or
- Both of the other judges awarded equal scores

Fouls

A boxer who does not obey the instructions of the Referee, acts against the boxing rules, boxes in an unsportsmanlike manner or commits fouls, can, at the discretion of the Referee, be cautioned, warned or disqualified. A boxer receiving a warning will have one point deducted from each judges' total score. Three warnings lead to an automatic disqualification.

The most typical types of fouls that are sanctioned are: hitting below the belt, holding, tripping, kicking and head butting. The complete list of fouls is available on the AIBA website.

Protests

Protests can be lodged. If a protest is lodged on time, the Jury must give its decision that same evening.

The structure and content of this output is recommended as a baseline for creation of the actual output for Games time.

General Interest

After the disappointment of the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, where for the first time in 40 years the Cuban team did not win any medals, his selection was questioned in the media. In 2009 he lost his spot in the national team before being recalled in 2010

He has praised coach Fernandez for improving his ability. "I became a much more disciplined fighter, with more dedication. Before I was just a defensive fighter, supported by good movements of my middle section. But he really pushed me to offer more aggression and more offensive movements.

HISTORY BOXING

Origin of Boxing

Boxing is the original combat sport. It featured in the ancient Olympic Games, where opponents fought each other with strips of leather wrapped around their fists. Onomastos of Smyrna was the first Olympic champion.

In Roman times, the leather straps were replaced with a cestus - a glove studded with metal - and bouts would usually end in the death of one of the boxers.

Boxing diminished at the end of Roman Empire but resurfaced in England in the 16th century. The sport was regulated in 1867 by the Queensberry rules, named because they were endorsed by the Marquess of Queensberry. Organised amateur boxing officially began in 1880.

Boxing Today

Boxing remains popular across the world, with almost 200 affiliated nations across five continents making up the AIBA.

AIBA has made a number of changes in recent years to modernise the sport. At the end of the 20th century, AIBA officially recognised women's boxing. At the 2010 AIBA Congress, officials approved a new electronic scoring system that does not display running scores during bouts, meaning coaches can no longer encourage passive defence.

Today, the men's event is separated into 10 weight categories, from light flyweight (46-49kg) to super heavyweight (+91kg). Bouts take place over three three-minute rounds. Women Olympic boxers compete in three weight categories: flyweight (48-51kg); lightweight (57-60kg); and middleweight (69-75kg). Bouts take place over four two-minute rounds.

Boxing at the Olympic Games

Boxing first appeared at the St Louis 1904 Olympic Games with bouts in seven weight divisions. Boxing was not included at the 1912 Stockholm Olympic Games but has been present since the Antwerp 1920 Olympic Games.

At Antwerp 1920, Eddie EAGAN (USA) won gold medal in the light heavyweight division. Twelve years later at the Lake Placid 1932 Winter Olympic Games, he won a gold medal in the men's bobsleigh, becoming the first athlete to win a gold medal in two different sports at summer and winter Olympic Games.

The competition's rules have been changed in recent years to make boxing safer and more exciting. Protective headguard became compulsory at the Los Angeles 1984 Olympic Games and at the Barcelona 1992 Olympic Games an electronic scoring system was used to strengthen the objectivity of refereeing.

The Olympic Games has been the pathway to success for many boxers. Muhammed ALI (then Cassius Clay) (USA), Joe FRAZIER (USA), George FOREMAN (USA), Oscar DE LA HOYA (USA) and Wladimir KLITSCHKO (UKR) all won gold medals at the Olympic Games before becoming world champions - and household names - in professional boxing.

PRESS CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS
BOXING
MEN'S HEAVY (91kg)
FINAL

News Item: 119

Comments from gold medallist Oleksandr USYK (UKR) and silver medallist Clemente RUSSO (ITA) following the final of the men's heavyweight (91kg) contest at ExCeL on Saturday. USYK won the gold medal match 14-11.

USYK Oleksandr (UKR) - Gold

On his response to winning gold:

"We already have a silver and we didn't need another one."

"I was on Skype before the fight to my daughter Lisa and she said, 'Daddy bring me the gold'. And so Lisa, darling, I am bringing it to you."

"After the first round - and the words that my coach told me after that round - I could not lose. He asked me 'How strong are the Italian's punches?' and I said, 'I don't know, I haven't felt any'. He said, 'Just go back out there and hit him'."

On his victory dance after the contest:

"The dance was a Ukrainian hopak dance which is a dance of the Cossacks who defended us back in the day and they were not afraid of anything."

"One of my earlier opponents who I defeated told me: 'I still have a little bit of strength - I'll let you have it'. So thank you to him."

RUSSO Clemente (ITA) - Silver

On his feelings after losing the final:

"I didn't want silver, I wanted gold. My opponent did very well in the second round, it was hard for me to get a rhythm. Perhaps I need some more training."

"I want to be happy but this is hard for me because I put four years training in and he put only two years."

"I want to thank my little Rosie who's just turned one and I want to go back to Italy to see her. This is my third Olympics. The first one didn't go so well. The second one I got the same medal as this. To get an Olympic medal takes more than talent, it's a lot of hard work and training."

SPORT PREVIEW

BOXING

News Item: 1

- Historically, Cuba has been one of the strongest nations in Olympic Games boxing, second only to the United States on the all-time list of medals.
- Beijing 2008 was notable in that it was the first time since Mexico City 1968 that Cuban boxers had returned home without at least one gold medal. They did win four silver and four bronze medals, but that will have been a huge disappointment, especially as they had won five gold medals at Athens 2004.
- Not many people are expecting them to miss out on gold at the London 2012 Olympic Games, which welcome women's boxing for the first time.
- Cuba will not be represented in any of the three women's weight categories, but have eight men in contention. Among their big hopes are Fly (52kg) Robeisy RAMIREZ CARRAZANA, Bantam (56kg) Lazaro ALVAREZ ESTRADA, Light (60kg) Yasnier TOLEDO LOPEZ, Light heavy (81kg) Julio LA CRUZ PERAZA and Super Heavy (+91kg) Erislandy SAVON COTILLA - nephew of three-time Olympic champion Felix SAVON (CUB).
- All four of Ukraine's gold medallists at the 2011 world amateur championships will be competing. They are Light Vasyly LOMACHENKO, Welter (69kg) Taras SHELESTYUK, Middle (75kg) Ievgen KHYTROV and Heavy (91kg) Oleksandr USYK.
- LOMACHENKO won feather (57kg) gold and the Val Barker trophy - which is awarded to the best boxer in the competition - at Beijing 2008. He is favourite to win light gold at London 2012.
- Great Britain are one of the new boxing powerhouses and most of the seven-man team are expected to turn professional after London 2012. Medal hopes include Bantam Luke CAMPBELL, world No.1 ranked Light Welter (64kg) Thomas STALKER and Super Heavy Anthony JOSHUA.
- China won two gold medals at Beijing 2008, and Light Fly (49kg) ZOU Shiming, the current world champion, will be hoping to repeat his success of four years ago.
- United States have suffered more than most nations from boxers switching to the professional code, but Fly Raushee WARREN is set to become their first boxer to compete at three Olympic Games.
- Japan will be hoping for a medal in the Middle category in which world championship runner-up Ryota MURATA is one of the most improved boxers.
- Lithuania will be competing at their ninth Olympics, and still await their first boxing medal. Powerful-punching Light Evaldas PETRAUSKAS and Welter (69kg) Egidijus KAVALIAUSKAS have a chance of success.
- Brazil, who host the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, have seven boxers at London 2012, with their outstanding hope being middle Esquiva FALCAO FLORENTINO.

Light Fly (49kg)

- ZOU Shiming (CHN) and Paddy BARNES (IRL) meet in a repeat of their Beijing 2008 Olympic Games semifinal, which the Chinese boxer won 15-0 before going on to win gold.
- No.3 seed David AYRAPETYAN (RUS) should know too much for Kaeo PONGPRAYOON (THA), who has won three tough contests to reach this stage.

Fly (52kg)

- The favourite for gold is 2011 world champion Misha ALOIAN (RUS), but he faces the improving Tugstsogt NYAMBAYAR (MGL) who competed in the world series of boxing last year.
- Robeisy RAMIREZ CARRAZANA (CUB) is just 18 and has performed magnificently so far at London 2012. It will be tough for the world championship quarterfinalist Michael CONLAN (IRL).

Bantam (56kg)

- Lazaro ALVAREZ ESTRADA (CUB) is the sixth consecutive Cuban boxer to win a medal at 56kg, but he will face stiff opposition from John Joe NEVIN (IRL) who reached the last four with a 19-13 win against Oscar VALDEZ FIERRO (MEX).
- No.3 seed Luke CAMPBELL (GBR) narrowly defeated Detelin DALAKLIEV (BUL) 16-15 in the quarterfinals, but is expected to beat Satoshi SHIMIZU (JPN), who was reinstated earlier in the competition after appealing his round of 16 loss to Magomed ABDULHAMIDOV (AZE).

Light (60kg)

- Beijing 2008 Feather (57kg) gold medallist, Vasyl LOMACHENKO (UKR), is one of the greatest amateur boxers ever and his two performances at the London 2012 Olympic Games have been faultless. His opponent, Yasnier TOLEDO LOPEZ (CUB), beat Gani ZHAILAUOV (KAZ) in the quarterfinal.
- The winner will fancy their final chances against semifinal surprise packages, heavy handed Evaldas PETRAUSKAS (LTU) and HAN Soonchul (KOR).

Light Welter (64kg)

- Roniel IGLESIAS SOTOLONGO (CUB) won a bronze medal at the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games, but has already eliminated world champion Everton dos SANTOS LOPES (BRA). No.4 seed Vincenzo MANGIACAPRE (ITA) has a big task ahead.
- Munkh-Erdene URANCHIMEG (MGL) shocked Britain captain Thomas STALKER (GBR) in the quarterfinal, and No.2 seed Deny BERINCHYK (UKR) - who had a close round of 16 call against Anthony YIGIT (SWE) - will not underestimate the Mongolian underdog.

MEN'S LIGHT FLY (46-49kg)

News Item: 17

Gold medallist ZOU Shiming (CHN) is one of the top names competing at the London 2012 Olympic Games, after winning his third world championship title in Baku, Azerbaijan in 2011.

Favourites

- ZOU Shiming (CHN) has speed and fantastic reflexes that make him hard to hit. London 2012 will be the 30-year-old's third Olympic Games. His bronze medal in the light Fly (49kg) division at Athens 2004 was China's first Olympic Games boxing medal.

Contenders

- Ireland's Paddy BARNES (IRL) won an Olympic Games bronze medal at Beijing 2008, losing against ZOU in the semifinals. In 2010, he won gold medals at the European championships in Moscow and Commonwealth Games in Delhi.
- Kaeo PONGPRAYOON (THA) was unseeded at the 2011 world amateur championship in Baku, but beat No.1 seed Salman ALIZADE (AZE) and reached the quarterfinal.
- World ranked No.1 SHIN Jonghun (KOR) is boxing in his first Olympic Games, but has competed at two world championships.
- Mark BARRIGA (PHL) is the lone Filipino boxer at London 2012, but has a medal chance. In June, the 19-year-old narrowly defeated David AYRAPETYAN (RUS) 10-9.
- Serdamba PUREVDORJ (MGL) reached the final of the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games, but was forced to retire in his contest against ZOU because of a shoulder injury.

Also

- Trinidad and Tobago's only representative in the boxing competition at London 2012 is Carlos SUAREZ (TRI). US-born SUAREZ, 19, qualified for the Olympic Games after reaching the semifinal of the Americas' qualifier in May.
- AYRAPETYAN (RUS) is one of the most experienced campaigners in the competition and has been boxing since 1997. He was the 2006 European champion.
- Yosbany VEITIA SOTO (CUB) has emerged as one of Cuba's leading youngsters. He reached the quarterfinal of the world amateur championships where he was beaten by PUREVDORJ (MGL).

MEN'S WELTER (69kg)
FINAL

News Item: 23

Serik SAPIYEV (KAZ) made sure Kazakhstan's boxers took home a gold medal for the fifth consecutive Olympic Games as he easily beat Freddie EVANS (GBR) in the Welter (69kg) final.

- SAPIYEV controlled the bout in style, winning 17-9 against a below-par EVANS, who was perhaps still feeling the effects of Friday's shock victory against No.1 seed Taras SHELESTYUK (UKR).
- SAPIYEV relied entirely on his southpaw jab in round one, taking it 4-2 with his British opponent offering little in return.
- EVANS continued to struggle against the Kazakh, who dictated the pace and extended his lead to five by winning round two 6-3.
- It was a forlorn cause for EVANS, who was pushed back time and again in round three by his opponent's nagging jab.
- Bronze medals were awarded to SHELESTYUK (UKR) and Andrey ZAMKOVOY (RUS) after their semifinal defeats.

Cuba displayed their class on Saturday with winning performances from Roniel IGLESIAS SOTOLONGO and Julio LA CRUZ PERAZA.

- Light Welter (64kg) IGLESIAS SOTOLONGO's hand speed accounted for world champion Everton dos SANTOS LOPES (BRA), 18-15, in a contest of quality and skill.
- IGLESIAS SOTOLONGO won the first round 4-3 and took the second 9-6 before the No.1 seed fought back to claim the final three minutes 6-5 in an all-southpaw clash.
- Cuba captain LA CRUZ PERAZA showed why he is favourite to win light Heavy (81kg) gold. He eased to a 25-8 victory against Ihab ALMATBOULI (JOR) and one senses the best is yet to come.
- The only Cuban boxer eliminated on day eight of the boxing competition was light Fly (49kg) Yosbany VEITIA SOTO (CUB).
- VEITIA SOTO performed well, despite taking a standing count, in a 14-11 defeat to the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games champion ZOU Shiming (CHN), who had too much experience for his 20-year-old opponent.
- Light Fly Aleksandar ALEKSANDROV (BUL) pulled off one of the shock results of the boxing competition so far by ousting world No.1 and second seed SHIN Jonghun (KOR).
- ALEKSANDROV produced a stunning comeback when, having trailed 9-7 going into the final round, he threw all he had at SHIN to win 15-14.
- In the highest scoring bout at London 2012 so far, No.2 seed Denys BERINCHYK (UKR) outpointed Anthony YIGIT (SWE) 24-23.
- The three rounds were littered with fearsome exchanges as the pair traded punishing shots throughout a thrilling contest.
- BERINCHYK was one of two boxers from Ukraine to reach the quarterfinal stage. Oleksandr GVOZDYK (UKR) emphatically beat Osmar BRAVO AMADOR (NCA) 18-6.
- Great Britain boxing captain Tom STALKER delighted the home fans with a hard-fought 20-16 win over MANOJ KUMAR (IND) that sets up a quarterfinal with Munkh-Erdene URANCHIMEG (MGL).
- World No.2 Damien HOOPER (AUS) was thought to be a genuine medal contender, but No.4 seed Egor MEKHONTCEV (RUS) kept him on the back foot with his southpaw jab and won 19-11 to earn a quarterfinal bout against Elshod RASULOV (UZB).

Great Britain added to their growing reputation as one of the world leaders in amateur boxing.

- They came to the London 2012 Olympic Games with a team of 10 in the men's and women's competitions, and left ExCeL with three gold medals, more than any other NOC.
- Anthony JOSHUA (GBR) won the Super Heavy (+91kg) category. Luke CAMPBELL (GBR) was the Bantam (56kg) gold medallist and Nicola ADAMS (GBR) was crowned the first women's Olympic champion when she won the Fly (51kg) final.
- Cuba's reputation as a boxing powerhouse took a dent at the Beijing 2008 Olympic Games, where they failed to win a gold medal.
- But they re-emerged at London 2012, winning two golds, through 18-year-old Fly (52kg) sensation Robeisy RAMIREZ CARRANZA (CUB) and light Welter (64kg) Roniel IGLESIAS SOTOLONGO (CUB).
- Kazakhstan Welter (69kg) Serik SAPIYEV (KAZ) was impressive, taking the gold medal and claiming the Val BARKER trophy, which is awarded to the best amateur male boxer at the competition.
- Ukraine captured four gold medals at the 2011 world championships, but went home with just two winners from London 2012.
- Vasyl LOMACHENKO (UKR) won at Light (60kg) and Oleksandr USYK (UKR) took the Heavy (91kg) title. Both appeared levels above their rivals.
- Russia won six medals - more than any other NOC - but will be disappointed they only topped the podium once, when Egor MEKHONCEV took gold at light Heavy (81kg).
- Ireland performed well and had noisy support whenever one of their boxers was in action.
- Their star turn was Katie TAYLOR who won the Light (60kg) championship and picked up the trophy awarded to the best women's boxer at the Olympic Games.
- The men's team from the United States proved a big disappointment as they failed to win a medal at an Olympic Games for the first time.
- But 17-year-old women's Middle (75kg) Claressa SHIELDS (USA) salvaged some pride, winning a gold medal to become the second youngest Olympic boxing champion ever.
- Ryota MURATA (JPN) claimed Japan's first gold medal since the Tokyo 1964 Olympic Games, when he took a debatable decision against Esquiva FALCAO FLORENTINO (BRA), who went home with silver.
- The Brazilian's older sibling, Yamaguchi FALCAO FLORENTINO (BRA), took light Heavy (81kg) bronze. They are the first brothers to win medals at the same Olympic Games since Leon SPINKS (USA) and Michael SPINKS (USA) at Montreal 1976.
- It was Brazil's best Olympic Games performance, having previously claimed just one medal at the Mexico 1968 Olympic Games when Servilio DE OLIVEIRA won Fly (then 51kg) bronze.

History will be made at the London 2012 Olympic Games with Women's boxing being included for the first time.

It means women will be competing in every sport in the Olympic programme, another first.

A total of 36 boxers, representing 23 NOCs, are preparing to compete at the ExCel, from 5 August, 108 years after the men's competition made its debut. At that same St Louis 1904 Olympic Games, women's boxing was a demonstration sport.

The IOC looked at introducing women's boxing at Beijing 2008 but decided it did not merit inclusion.

The breakthrough came in October 2009 when the IOC's executive board announced women's boxing would feature at London 2012.

To make way for the three women's weight classes - Fly (51kg), Light (60kg) and Middle (75kg) - the number of men's categories was reduced from 11 to 10.

Brazil, China, Russia, USA and Great Britain are fielding boxers in each of the three weight divisions.

Fly REN Cancan (CHN), Light Katie TAYLOR (IRL) and Middle Nadezda TORLOPOVA (RUS) are going into the competition ranked No.1 in their respective weight.

However, Britain will be confident of medals in each of the classes after Savannah MARSHALL won middle gold at the women's world boxing championships in China in May.

Fly Nicola ADAMS, meanwhile, beat five-time world champion Chungneijang Mery Kom HMANGTE (IND) on her way to the silver medal behind REN.

Natasha JONAS won bronze at the world championships, after defeat in the semifinals of the light division, which was won by TAYLOR.

Boxing: IOC disqualifies FAMILYNAME Givenname (NOC) for doping violation

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) on Monday announced that it has disqualified FAMILYNAME Givenname (NOC) from the Boxing Men's Light (60kg) of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

Immediately after his participation in the bout on 10 August, FAMILYNAME, 23, provided a urine sample that tested positive for the prohibited substance 11-nor-delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol-9-carboxylic acid.

The IOC Disciplinary Commission, composed for this case of Mr Givenname FAMILYNAME (Chairman), Mr Givenname FAMILYNAME and Mr Givenname FAMILYNAME, decided:

- I. The boxer, Mr Givenname FAMILYNAME, NOC name, Boxing:
 - (i) is disqualified from the Men's Light (60kg) of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games where he placed 7th;
 - (ii) shall have his diploma in the above-mentioned event withdrawn; and
 - (iii) shall have his Olympic identity and accreditation card cancelled and withdrawn immediately.
- II. The AIBA is requested to modify the results of the above-mentioned event accordingly and to consider any further action within its own competence.
- III. The NOC of the member country is ordered to return to the IOC, as soon as possible, the diploma awarded to the boxer in relation to the above-mentioned event.
- IV. The IOC administration is requested to reallocate the diplomas to the boxers that finished behind Mr FAMILYNAME in the above-mentioned event, in which Mr FAMILYNAME placed 7th at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.
- V. This decision shall enter into force immediately.

Under the IOC Anti-Doping Rules applicable to the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, testing takes place under the IOC's auspices from the opening of the Olympic Village to the Closing Ceremony. Within that period, the IOC systematically performs tests before and after events. After each event, the IOC systematically carries out tests on the top five finishers plus two at random. The IOC also performs out-of-competition unannounced tests. Over the course of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, the IOC is expected to carry out some 5,000 tests - 3,800 urine and 1,200 blood. For more information, please consult the IOC factsheet on anti-doping.
