COMPETITION FORMAT AND RULES

SYNCHRONISED SWIMMING

As of 23 JUN 2016

Olympic Competition Format

There are two Synchronised Swimming events at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games: Duets and Teams.

The Teams competition has only one phase - the final, which is held over two sessions: The technical routine and the free routine final.

The total result is the sum of the free routine final points and the technical routine points.

The Duets competition has two phases: The preliminary (two sessions) and the final (one session).

The two sessions in the preliminary are: The free routine preliminary and the technical routine. The total result of the preliminary phase is the sum of the free routine preliminary points and the technical routine points. The highest twelve ranked duets at the end of the preliminary advance to the final. If, after applying FINA tie-break rules, there is an unbreakable tie for 12th place, all tied duets will advance to the final.

The single session in the final is: The free routine final.

The total result of the final is the sum of the free routine final points and the technical routine points from the preliminary phase.

The number of competitors is as follows:

- 8 teams of 9 competitors (72 competitors)
- 16 additional duets of 2 competitors (32 competitors)
- Total of 104 competitors

An NOC may enter the Duets competition only (maximum of one pair, i.e. two competitors) or it may enter both the Duets and the Teams competitions (maximum of one team, i.e. nine competitors) with two of the team members also swimming in the Duets.

Differences between the FINA World Championships and the Olympic Games

The primary difference is that there is no solo or free combination event in the Olympic programme. In addition, in the FINA World Championships, in all events the medals are awarded for both the technical and the free routine.

Changes since the London 2012 Olympic Games

For the Rio Duets competition preliminary phase, the routines will be swum in reverse order from previous Olympic Games. The first session will be the free routine preliminary, followed by the technical routine session. The time limit for the Duets (for Free Routines) has been reduced by 30 seconds.

Also, for Rio there will be a completely new method of judging routines. In London each routine for both events had two panels of seven judges. In Rio each routine will have three panels of five judges.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Rules for Olympic Competition:

Both events (Duets and Teams) consist of two types of routines (technical routine and free routine) with three panels of judges. The details of scoring are as follows:

General:

- Judges will award scores (0 to 10, with 0.1 increments).
- For every set of scores awarded by a panel of judges the high and low scores are discarded before calculations are made.
- The sum of the remaining judges' scores is used to determine the points from that panel.
- The points for a routine can be determined by adding the points for each panel multiplied by a weighting factor, minus any penalties.

- The total points for a phase are the sum of the technical routine and the free routine points. (In the duets final phase the technical routine points from the preliminary phase are used)

Technical Routine:

- The three panels of judges (and weighting factor) are execution (30%), impression (30%) and required elements (40%).
- Each judge on the first two panels will award one score. Judges on the third panel will award separate scores for each of the five required elements, which must be performed in the specified order.
- Each required element will have a specified Degree of Difficulty (DD). The score for each element will be the average of the counted judges' scores multiplied by the DD.

Free Routine:

- The three panels of judges (and weighting factor) are execution (30%), artistic impression (40%) and difficulty (30%).
- Each judge on the three panels will award one score.

Below is a sample of the calculations for determining the score for a Duets technical routine:

|        | WT  | 1    | 2   | 3   | 4   | 5   | TOT-HILO       | AVER      | CALC     |

Tie-break Rules and Procedures:

In general, for both events, tied ranks are not broken. If ties occur within the top three final ranks, multiple medals are awarded.

However, if two or more duets are tied for the 12th qualifying place at the end of the preliminary phase, the ties will be broken as follows:

- The higher free routine score of the final result of the preliminary phase
- If they remain tied, by the execution score of the free routine
- If they remain tied, by the score of the technical routine
- If they remain tied, by the elements score of the technical routine
- In the case of an unbreakable tie, all tied duets will qualify to the free routine final

Penalties/Disqualification Rules:

Penalties are assessed by a referee. There are several competition rules that, if broken, can result in penalty deductions when determining the score for the routine (e.g. time limit, using the bottom of the pool, incorrect technical required elements, etc.).

There are also certain FINA rules relating to Synchronised Swimming that, if broken, can result in a duet or team being disqualified from the competition. Such rules are additional disqualification criteria over and above any IOC sanctioned disqualification criteria.

Protests/Appeals:

Protests are possible and shall be resolved under FINA rules. Protests must be submitted to the referee in writing by the team leader, together with a deposit of CHF 100, within 30 minutes of the conclusion of the event concerned. All protests shall be considered by the referee. The Commission shall consider appeals against decisions by the referee and give recommendations to the Jury of Appeal, whose decision shall be final.

The structure and content of this output is recommended as a baseline for creation of the actual output for Games time.

General Interest

Led by team captain Marie-Pierre Gagne, Canada qualified for the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing, China by finishing third at the qualification tournament in early 2008, also in Beijing.

Canada has played a primary role in the history of international synchronised swimming and has produced some exceptional performers, most notably Carolyne Waldo, who won gold medals at the Olympic Games, the World Cup, the World Championships and the Commonwealth Games between 1982 and 1988. The only blemish on her perfect record was a silver medal in the solo event at the 1984 Olympic Games in Los Angeles.

Until the 2001 World Championships in Fukuoka, Japan, Canada had secured a place on the podium at most international events, winning a total of 12 Olympic, eight World Championship and nine World Cup medals. However, since 2001 other teams have improved markedly and competition for medals has increased, indeed Russia have won the Teams event at every edition of the World Championships since 1998.

Canada have always been renowned for their creative and entertaining routines, such as the one they performed at the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney, Australia, which was based upon the idea of illustrating the Olympic sports.

They hurdled, high jumped, performed a gymnastic dismount, a taekwondo kick, a volleyball serve and an archer's shot. The finale sent the 12,000 spectators in Sydney into raptures when Clare Carver-Dias emerged from the water mimicking a cyclist. The routine earned them a bronze medal.

HISTORY SYNCHRONISED SWIMMING

Origin of Synchronised Swimming

Synchronised swimming grew as a sport from ornamental swimming and theatrical water ballets of the late 19th and early 20th Centuries. In the mid 1920s Canada was the centre of synchronised swimming. The sport spread to the United States in the early 1930s. This sport received popular attention when it was featured in the Esther Williams films of the era. Synchronised swimming has been referred to as water ballet due to its theatrical beginnings and dance-like routines.

Synchronised Swimming Today

Synchronised swimming is practiced in over 80 countries worldwide. In addition to the Olympic Games, synchronised swimming also takes place in World Championships every two years, alongside swimming, diving, water polo and open water swimming. The World Cup was introduced in 1979, and Junior World Championships were first held in 1989. An annual World Trophy, in which marks are awarded only for artistic impression (not for technical merit), was introduced in 2006.

Synchronised Swimming in the Olympic Games

After being an exhibition sport in London in 1948 and Helsinki in 1952, synchronised swimming debuted as an Olympic sport in Los Angeles in 1984. Olympic competition has long been dominated by the United States and Canada, who between them have won every gold and silver medal contested. Russia has emerged as a world power in synchronised swimming, after winning the gold at the 1998 World Championships in the Solo, Duets and Teams events.

PRESS CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS
DUETS
FINAL

News Item: 119

KOROLEVA Mariya (USA) - Synchronised duet swimmer

On how being a college athlete helps prepare her for life at the Olympic Games:

"Being a collegiate athlete, you learn so much in general, so many great things like time management, what it's like to be on a collegiate team. There's just a great spirit, a great camaraderie being in a collegiate sport and carrying that over to the national team. You build that sense of being a US athlete and not just representing your school or club. You're representing the whole country."

On how she and Mary KILLMAN are progressing after only a year as a duet:

"We've definitely accomplished a lot in that year. We've written two new programmes. We've competed at many national competitions, and even though we're a new duet, we're at that level where we can be competitive with other duets who have been together for years and years."

On Russian dominance in synchronised swimming:

"They have built a programme over there in Russia and it's going to be tough. If you look at their routines, they're almost perfect. Their duet looks like one person in two. We're all trying to break into that but it's tough. It's not going to happen in one or two years. It's going to take time but as of right now I think they've got a very strong grasp on that gold medal."

KILLMAN Mary (USA) - Synchronised duet swimmer

On whether she and Mariya KOROLEVA have been overawed by the experience of their first Olympic Games:

"We definitely have to take in everything we're doing; you have to take in the Olympics, take in the village. Lucky for us, after we compete we're going to be here for another few days, four or five days, and we're holding that as when we're really going to experience everything. Right now we're here for a competition."

On why her mother encouraged her to take up swimming:

"My mum almost drowned when she was eight and she decided that no child of hers was ever going to have the problem of possible drowning. Immediately after I was born she started putting me in the swim classes where the babies learn to swim, and I just fell in love with the water."

Russian champions favourites for Synchronised Swimming Gold

- After dominating Synchronised Swimming for the past decade, reigning Olympic and world champions Russia are chasing double Gold at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.
- Known for their superior technique and timing, the Russians have come to expect near-perfect technical scores and were rewarded with Gold in the Teams event at the last two Olympic Games, and the last five world championships.
- Spain are expected to challenge the Russians hardest, led by 31-year-old veteran Gemma MENGUAL. Spain are the European champions and hope to claim their first Synchronised Swimming Olympic medal.
- China have emerged as a threat in the pool since they hired legendary Japanese coach Masayo IMURA in 2006. Despite having never finished higher than sixth in an Olympic Games, China claimed fourth in both the Teams and Duets events at the 2015 world championships.
- Twin sisters JIANG Tingting (CHN) and JIANG Wenwen (CHN) combine in Duets, and want to win an Olympic medal after finishing second to Spain in the Rio 2016 Qualifying Tournament.
- The United States, once a force to be reckoned with in this sport, will want to improve on a disappointing fifth-place finish in the Teams event at the 2015 world championships but the 2015 Pan American champions are short on Olympic Games experience.
- The Synchronised Swimming competition begins on Sunday, 5 August with the Duets technical routine.

Teams: Russian Federation look set to rule

- Russia's decade of domination in the Synchronised Swimming Teams event looks set to continue as they took a decisive lead after the technical routine at the Olympic Aquatics Stadium on Thursday.
- Chasing their third consecutive Olympic Gold in this discipline, Russia got off to the best possible start with a routine that displayed the power and precision that has come to be expected of the world champion team. Their score of 99.0000 left them 1.3000 points clear of their nearest rivals, Spain, heading into Friday's free routine.
- Spain, who won silver in the Duets on Tuesday, are in a position to claim their second Olympic Synchronised Swimming medal after finishing second with a score of 97.7020.
- A spectacular opening passage of legwork from China was backed up by an all-round graceful performance. They were rewarded with a score of 97.3333, putting them in third place.
- Japan, Silver-medallists at the last two Olympic Games, are once again locked in a tussle with China for a minor medal.
- The USA and Canada finished locked in equal fifth on 95.1400. Both teams will have to erase some technical flaws if they are to challenge for a medal.

Teams: Russian Federation takes gold, as expected

- Russia scored a perfect 100 points to make it two from two as they claimed Gold in the Synchronised Swimming Teams event at the Olympic Aquatics Stadium on Saturday.
- Despite starting the day with a convincing 2.6500 lead over second-placed Spain, Russia performed with the mechanical precision and raw power for which they are renowned. Their throws, lifts and legwork were beyond the physical capabilities of any other team and they carried them out with perfect synchronisation.
- Spain claimed another Silver to add to that won by Gemma MENGUAL (ESP) and Andrea FUENTES (ESP) in the Duets on Tuesday. While never challenging Russia, Spain's African-inspired free routine delivered both grace and strength and allowed them to hold off China's challenge. Their score of 98.6333 gave them a combined score of 196.3333.
- Spurred on by the fourth-place finish of duet JIANG Tingting (CHN) and JIANG Wenwen (CHN), China came out firing in the Free Routine with a backflip entry and a massive throw in the opening passage. A number of powerful oriental-inspired moves combined with graceful swimming were rewarded with 97.4000. Their total of 194.6605 won the Bronze - China's first Olympic Synchronised Swimming medal.
- Bronze medallists in Duets, Japan performed a routine highlighted by fast-paced legwork and smooth transitions. But their day ended on a sour note when Hiromi KOBAYASHI (JPN) had to be helped from the water after suffering breathing difficulties at the end of the routine. Japan's score of 95.4000 left them in fourth before they were penalised two points for deliberate use of the bottom of the pool. They were relegated to equal fifth position with a final total of 189.5430.
- Canada and the USA began the day on equal points but Canada's Free Routine was more energetic from the outset. Japan's penalty elevated Canada to fourth position, ahead of the USA team, who suffered from a number of formation errors. Their equal fifth-place matched their worst-ever finish in international competition.

- Russia scored a perfect 100 points to make it two from two as they claimed Gold in the Synchronised Swimming Teams event at the Olympic Aquatics Stadium on Friday.
- They won Gold in the Duets and Teams events for the third Olympic Games in a row, underscoring their reputation as the world's best "synchronettes".
- Spain claimed another Silver to add to that won by Gemma MENGUAL (ESP) and Andrea FUENTES (ESP) in the Duets on Tuesday. While never challenging Russia, Spain's African-inspired free routine delivered both grace and strength and allowed them to hold off China's challenge. Their score of 98.6333 gave them a combined score of 196.3333.
- Spurred on by the fourth-place finish of duet JIANG Tingting (CHN) and JIANG Wenwen (CHN), China came out firing in the Free Routine with a backflip entry and a massive throw in the opening passage. A number of powerful oriental-inspired moves combined with graceful swimming were rewarded with 97.4050. Their total of 194.6650 won the Bronze - China's first Olympic Synchronised Swimming medal.
- Bronze medallists in Duets, Japan performed a routine highlighted by fast-paced legwork and smooth transitions. But their day ended on a sour note when Hiromi KOBAYASHI (JPN) had to be helped from the water after suffering breathing difficulties at the end of the routine. Japan's score of 95.400 left them in fourth before they were penalised two points for deliberate use of the bottom of the pool. They were relegated to equal fifth position with a final total of 189.5440.
- Canada and the USA began the day on equal points but Canada's Free Routine was more energetic from the outset. Japan's penalty elevated Canada to fourth position, ahead of the USA team, who suffered from a number of formation errors. Their equal fifth-place matched their worst-ever finish in international competition.

Under the IOC Anti-Doping Rules applicable to the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, testing takes place under the IOC's auspices from the opening of the Olympic Village to the Closing Ceremony. Within that period, the IOC systematically performs tests before and after events. After each event, the IOC systematically carries out tests on the top five finishers plus two at random. The IOC also performs out-of-competition unannounced tests. Over the course of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, the IOC is expected to carry out some 5,000 tests - 3,800 urine and 1,200 blood.
