COMPETITION FORMAT AND RULES

HOCKEY

As of 23 JUN 2016

Olympic Competition Format

The Olympic Hockey competition at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games comprises Women's and Men's events. Both events have the same format and rules. In the preliminary round (pool matches) 12 teams are divided into two pools of six teams. Each team plays every other team in its pool.

The two pools will be seeded by the FIH as follows:

Pool A	Pool B
Seed 1	Seed 2
Seed 4	Seed 3
Seed 5	Seed 6
Seed 8	Seed 7
Seed 9	Seed 10
Seed 12	Seed 11

The top four teams in each pool will proceed to the quarterfinals, while the remaining four teams are eliminated from the competition. The winners of the quarterfinals will proceed to the semifinals and the losers are eliminated. The winners of the semifinals will play for the gold and silver medals. The losers of the semifinals will play for the bronze medal.

Differences between the FIH World Cup and the Olympic Games

The 2014 and 2018 WC competition formats are different.

Changes since the London 2012 Olympic Games

The competition format of the final round has changed to direct elimination (quarterfinals, semifinals and finals). No classification matches for 5th to 12th places will be played.

The format of hockey matches has changed. All matches will be played in four periods of 15 minutes. There will be a two minute break after the first and third periods (teams are not allowed to leave the area of the field of play) and a 10 minute break between the second and third periods (halftime).

No extra time period will be played if the score is tied at the end of a final round match, an outright winner will be established by a shoot-out competition.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Scoring

The team scoring the most goals wins the match. At the completion of each match during pool play, three points will be awarded to the winner; one point will be awarded to each team in the event of a draw; zero points are awarded to the loser. Final round matches are single elimination.

Pool and final rankings (including Tie Break Rules and Procedures)

- Preliminary round, pool ranking:

Ranking in a pool will be determined by the total number of points earned. If two or more teams are tied by points, ties will be broken as follows:

- (a) The highest total number of wins
- (b) The goal difference
- (c) The total number of goals scored
- (d) The result of the match played between the tied teams
- (e) If the teams remain tied, a shoot-out competition will be held (this only applies to the teams tied for the pool ranking 1 to 4)

(f) If more than two teams are tied by points, then a ranking based only upon the results of the matches between these teams will be calculated. If they remain tied, the ties will be broken by points (a), (b), (c) and (d) above, based only upon the results of the matches between these teams.

(g) If more than two teams remain tied, then each team will play a shoot-out competition against the other teams in the same sequence of play as the order of play in the competition. This shoot-out competition will consist of one round of five shoot-outs to be taken by each team (compulsorily). The teams will be ranked based upon the results of the shoot-out competition only, with three points awarded to the team that scored the highest number of goals; one point to each team if the number of goals scored is equal; and zero points to the team that scored the lowest number of goals. If they remain tied, the ties will be broken by points (a), (b), (c) and (d) above, as applied to goals recorded during the shoot-out competition only.

(h) If more than two teams still remain tied after the above procedure, it shall be repeated until the teams can be ranked. The FIH Technical Delegate shall hold a draw to establish the sequence of play if further rounds of shoot-outs are required.

- The four teams who are eliminated in the preliminary round are ranked 9th to 12th according to the following criteria based on their performance in the pool matches:
 - (a) The points gained
 - (b) The highest total number of wins
 - (c) The goal difference
 - (d) The total number of goals scored
 - (e) If ties are not broken the teams will receive the same final ranking
- The four losing quarterfinalists are ranked 5th to 8th according to the following criteria based on their performance in the pool matches:
 - (a) The points gained
 - (b) The highest total number of wins
 - (c) The goal difference
 - (d) The total number of goals scored
 - (e) If ties are not broken the teams will receive the same final ranking

Match tie-breaking

Pool-play matches may end in a draw, final round matches may not. If the score is tied at the end of a final round match, an outright winner will be established by a shoot-out competition. A single series of five shoot-outs for each team will take place, with the teams taking shoot-outs alternately. If the teams are still tied after the series of five shoot-outs, the competition becomes a sudden death competition with each team taking one shoot-out until such time as one team scores and the other team fails to score.

Basic Rules

The basic unit of any hockey competition is a match. A match consists of four 15 minute periods. There is a two minute break after the first and third periods but teams are not allowed to leave the area of the field of play. Halftime is the break between the second and third periods and lasts 10 minutes. During the final round, if match remains drawn after the end of regulation time a shoot-out competition will be used to determine a winner. The match is controlled by two umpires.

Of the sixteen players in the team only eleven may be on the field of play at any one time, the other five may be substituted as and when the coach deems fit and as often as the coach pleases (rolling substitution). During a penalty corner only an injured or suspended defending goalkeeper may be substituted. Time is not stopped during the substitution procedure, except in the case of the substitution of a defending goalkeeper.

Players may only use the flat side of the stick to play the ball and, other than the goalkeeper, may not use any part of their body to play the ball. The goalkeeper may use any part of his or her body to block the ball or push it away and in particular use their stick or feet to propel it.

Players may not use their body or stick to obstruct another player from attempting to play the ball. The ball may be lifted during open play providing there is no danger to other players, but may not be lifted from a free hit. A free hit is awarded against the offending player for any breach of the rules. The player taking the free hit may take it by quickly moving off with the ball (self pass). A free hit awarded inside the circle to the attacking team becomes a penalty corner, which is a set play with specific rules governing how it is conducted. An intentional foul by a defender inside the 23m area but outside the circle also leads to the award of a penalty corner. An intentional foul inside the circle leads to the award of a penalty stroke. A penalty stroke is a one-on-one (attacker on goalkeeper) set play taken from a spot 6.4m in front of the goal with specific rules governing how it is conducted. The player taking the penalty may only push, scoop or flick the ball in this situation.

A card system is used to discipline players. A green card signifies a suspension for two minutes; a yellow card a suspension for a minimum of five minutes (the maximum is at the umpire's discretion); and a red card signifies a suspension from at least the remainder of that match. Further penalties can be imposed to a red carded player by the Technical Delegate.

Full Rules

The full set of rules and tournament regulations is available from the FIH and may be found on their website: www.fih.ch

Penalties / Disqualification Rules

- A player that receives a red card (permanent exclusion from the rest of a match) will have the case reviewed by the Technical Delegate. The Technical Delegate will convene a hearing and receive evidence from the incident(s) that led to the award of a red card and hear the player's submission/defence. The Technical Delegate will then determine an appropriate penalty. This can range from no further action to a suspension from playing. The length of any suspension will depend on the severity of the incident that led to the red card.
- The Technical Delegate may review any situation during a match, whether it is something he notices or is brought to his attention
- Should a player, or more than one player, fail a drug test, the case will be referred to the IOC to determine what penalty, if any, should be applied
- During the pool matches
 - (a) A team either disqualified for whatever reason or refusing to play or to complete a match shall be deemed to have withdrawn from the tournament
 - (b) If a team so withdraws from the tournament, any matches it has played until then, as well as all the matches it has still to play, will be recorded as a 5-0 loss and that team shall be ranked last in the pool and in the tournament. The pool points table will be corrected accordingly.
 - (c) No goals will be awarded to any player in all matches played or to be played by the team that has been disqualified or has failed to play
- During the final round matches
 - (a) A team either disqualified for whatever reason or refusing to play or to complete a match will be deemed to have withdrawn from the tournament at that stage and to have lost the match in question
 - (b) The team will be ranked last in the tournament and will not receive, or will not be allowed to keep any medals and trophies to which it was entitled or which it had already received
 - (c) All teams ranked below the team at the time of the withdrawal will be advanced by one place in the final ranking. Where appropriate after such revision of the ranking, the next highest ranked team(s) at the time of the withdrawal will be awarded any medals and trophies as appropriate.
 - (d) No goals will be awarded to any player in all matches played or to be played by the team that has been disqualified or has failed to play

Protests / Appeals

Disputes shall be resolved in accordance with FIH regulations and current rules. The Appeal Jury shall decide on matters before it in accordance with FIH regulations and the current rules.

HISTORY HOCKEY

Origin of Hockey

The roots of hockey are buried deep in antiquity. Historical records showed that a crude form of hockey was played in Egypt 4,000 years ago and in Ethiopia around 1000 BC. Various museums offer evidence that a form of the game was played by Romans and Greeks, and by the Aztec Indians in South America several centuries before Columbus landed in the New World. The modern game of hockey evolved in England primarily around schools.

Hockey Today

By 1964, there were already 50 countries affiliated with the International Hockey Federation (FIH), as well as three continental federations - Africa, Pan America and Asia - and in 1974, there were 71 members. Today, the International Hockey Federation consists of five continental federations - Europe and Oceania have since joined - and 127 member associations, the most recent addition being Macedonia, Mongolia, Qatar, Togo and Vanuatu Hockey Associations, which were admitted during the November 2008 FIH congress.

Today, the work of the FIH is accomplished through the efforts of its President, Hon Secretary General and Chief Executive Officer, working together with an executive board, a number of instrumental committees, and the professional staff in its Lausanne headquarters

In many ways, the FIH serves as the "guardian" of the sport. It works in co-operation with the national and continental federations to ensure consistency and unity in hockey around the world. The FIH not only regulates the sport but is also responsible for its development and promotion so as to guarantee a secure future for hockey.

Other than the Olympic Games the major international tournaments in hockey are the World Cup, played every four years and the Champions Trophy and Champions Challenges played bi-annually involving the eight nations in each of the 3 competitions. In 2012, the FIH will launch a new global competition, currently called the FIH World League, which will provide global competition available to all member associations and from which qualification for the Olympic Games or World Cup will be gained.

Hockey at the Olympic Games

The first Olympic hockey competition for men was held in London 1908 with England, Ireland and Scotland competing separately. After having made its first appearance in the 1908 Games, hockey was subsequently dropped from the 1912 Stockholm Games, and reappeared in 1920 in Antwerp before being omitted in Paris in 1924. The Paris organisers refused to include hockey on the basis that the sport had no International Federation.

The women's game developed quickly in many countries and in 1927 the International Federation of Women's Hockey Associations (IFWHA) was formed. The founding members were Australia, Denmark, England, Ireland, Scotland, South Africa, the United States and Wales. After celebrating their respective Golden Jubilees - the FIH in 1974 and the IFWHA in 1980 - the two organisations came together in 1984 to form the FIH.

The growth of the FIH from its early beginnings has been most impressive. Denmark joined in 1925, the Dutch men in 1926, Turkey in 1927, and in 1928 - the year of the Amsterdam Olympics - Germany, Poland, Portugal and India joined. India's addition marked the membership of the first non European country.

Australia (AUS) vs Korea (KOR)

CHARLESWORTH Ric (AUS) - Coach

What was your game plan?

"Korea uses long passes to their striker. We wanted to get the ball and keep it and penetrate. We talked about fine-tuning use the person in mid field to distribute the ball better."

"When we won the World Cup we weren't nearly as polished as we are now."

"Aggressive: that's our way of playing. The three teams here are the three most aggressive teams and take the most chances."

"Korea is very good at watching what you do and copying it."

Was the team nervous?

"In the first half, everyone was fit. We had two chances in the first half and we scored. It takes a while for a game to open up."

What is the difference between coaching a medal team versus playing in one?

"It's a different experience. Coaching isn't as fun as playing. It's mentally demanding. It's a job where you get paid to be thorough. You are never satisfied, always asking for more. Efforts of others pushed the sport further. I think we can be much better, mind you."

PEREIRA Jackie (AUS) - Captain

What are Australia's strengths?

"We have 16 players that can really play all day, but the other teams didn't interchange as much as us. Our fitness showed in the end."

LEE Bing-Yulike (KOR) - Manager

What are your thoughts about today's game?

"I think this game was one that was a worthy Olympic final."

"They (AUS) are a very good all round team with a good mix of experience and talent."

"We wanted to give them a good game today, and I felt we accomplished that. We are still a team on the rise, but we still need more from our attack and defence."

"Both teams showed a lot of intensity and desire."

Women: Australia, Argentina and Netherlands fight for gold

- A tight three race for gold is shaping up in the Women's Hockey as Australia seeks to capture a record setting third consecutive Olympic gold medal in Athens.
- Australia, Argentina and Netherlands are serious contenders for the gold, and could be joined in the top four by China. Lacking the same depth of players as in the past, there are no guarantees for Australia's second ranked Hockeyroos, who have also suffered a number of injuries in the run up to the Games.
- After losing midfielder Sara TAYLOR (AUS) to a fractured foot, Australia now awaits the final decision on the fitness of the striker Katrina POWELL (AUS), who is struggling to recover from a pulled calf muscle.
- POWELL, the team captain, is the only player on the squad who has already earned two Olympic hockey gold medals.
- Australia will be most heavily challenged by World Cup holders and first ranked Argentina, who may be set to dethrone the champions.
- With 11 players returning from their Sydney 2000 silver medal winning team, "Las Leones" (the Lions) have the skill and experience needed to take the gold this time around.
- Also in contention for the top spot are the third ranked Netherlands, who defeated by Argentina in the final of the 2002 World Cup held in Perth, Australia. The Dutch, who finished third at the Sydney Games, are led by 2003 International Hockey Federation (IHF) player of the year, Mijntje DONNERS (NED).
- The up and coming Chinese, now ranked fourth in the world, pose yet another threat to the top teams. China, one of three Asian squads in the women's tournament, finished fifth at the Sydney Games, and took gold and silver, respectively, at the 2002 and 2003 Champions Trophy.
- Joining Argentina and China in the Pool A are Spain, New Zealand and Japan.
- Spain, ranked sixth in the world, finished fourth at the Sydney Games and finished eighth at the 2002 World Cup. New Zealand, ranked ninth in the world, finished sixth at the Sydney Games and 11th at the World Cup.
- The Japanese women are making their first appearance at the Olympic Games, earning their spot by winning the Qualification Tournament for the Games held in Auckland, New Zealand in March 2003. Ranked 11th in the world, they boast the Qualification Tournament's top goal scorer in Sakae MORIMOTO (JPN).
- Rounding out Pool B are Korea, Germany and South Africa.
- After taking silver at Atlanta 1996, the Koreans dropped to ninth in Sydney and now looking to climb back up the rankings. Currently eighth in the world, Korea finished sixth at the 2002 World Cup in Perth.
- The German women will be happy if they can break their pattern of "sevens". They are ranked seventh in the world, and finished seventh in both the Sydney Games and the 2002 World Cup.
- South Africa, making only their second Olympic Games appearance, are looking to improve on their 10th place finish at Sydney.
- Adding further interest to the mix is recent change by FIH to the rule interpretation for penalty corner. As of 1 June 2004, defenders are no longer permitted to run directly into the line of the flicked penalty corner shot. While more of an issue in the Men's tournament where speciality penalty corner strikers abound, such a change will still have an impact on the Women's tournament. Rechelle HAWKES (AUS), the only women to have won three gold medals in Olympic hockey, has expressed concern about the change. "This could have some huge ramifications on the results. Not only the players need to get used to it, but so do the umpires. I can see some potential for gross misinterpretation. The umpires will need to be sensible and not blow (the whistle) every time."

Men: Tough road to third gold for Netherlands

- The Men's Olympic hockey tournament promises to be one of the toughest ever, with reigning Olympic champions, the Netherlands, looking to capture its third consecutive gold medal.

- After finishing on the top in Atlanta and Sydney, the Dutch will be hard pressed to complete the hat trick. Germany, 2002 World Cup holders, and Australia, still in search of an elusive Olympic gold, could equally find themselves collecting top honours on the final day of competition.
- Other strong contenders with medal chances include Spain, Korea and Pakistan.
- Adding even more interest - and potentially controversy - to the mix is the recent change by FIH to the rule interpretation for penalty corner. As of 1 June 2004, defenders are no longer permitted to run directly into the line of the flicked penalty corner shot.
- This will have the effect of opening up the area in front of the goal during penalty corners and potentially making specialists such as Sohail ABBAS (PAK), Ben HAWES (GBR), Taeke TAEKEMA (NED) and Jorge LOMBI (ARG) even more lethal.
- Led by FIH player of year Teun de NOOIJER (No great surprise), the Dutch are ranked second in the world behind Germany. While their dominance at major tournaments in recent years will be challenged, it would be Netherlands prevailed.
- Capturing the gold in Athens would put the Netherlands in the company of legend hockey power India, the only team to have captured three consecutive hockey gold medals. There are five members of the Dutch men's team who have a chance to win their third Olympic gold medal.
- As the current No. 1 in the FIH World Ranking, Germany is another hot favourite for the gold at the Games. With an average of 171 caps each, this is a highly experienced team. There are 10 players from the Sydney 2000 team and 13 players from the winning 2002 World Cup team still on board.
- Australia may be the best men's team to have taken home Olympic gold. The Kookaburras are ranked number three in the world and finished second at both the 2003 Champions Trophy and the 2002 World Cup.
- Currently ranked 9th in the world, Spain will be looking to climb back up the Olympic results ladder. After taking the silver medal in Atlanta (1996), the Spanish men went downhill. They could manage only 9th in Sydney.
- Recent form shows that Pakistan may be on pace to challenge for a medal in Athens. Led by former Dutch men's coach, Roeland OLTMANS, the Pakistan side has been benefiting from his more structured and disciplined approach to training, fitness and nutrition.
- Currently ranked 5th in the world, Pakistan may benefit the most from the new penalty corner interpretation. That's because in ABBAS, they have the player widely accepted to be the best in the world.
- The Korean men would be happy to find themselves in the gold medal match, as in Sydney, but Germany, Spain and Pakistan all in the same pool (along with Egypt and Great Britain), it will be a challenging prospect.
- Despite its illustrious hockey history (eight gold medal - six of them consecutively), India's men's hockey team has not won an Olympic medal since 1980. Currently ranked 6th in the world, the Indians finished only 10th in the 2002 World Cup, but were a more respectable 4th at the 2003 Champions Trophy.
- The first match of the Men's Olympic hockey tournament begins on Sunday 15 August at the Olympic Hockey Centre at 8:30.

German women and Australian men capture first gold

- The 2004 Olympic Games Hockey competition came to a dramatic conclusion with a gold medal in extra time for Australia's Men's Hockey team, the first in its history, whilst the German ladies also claimed its first Olympic Games gold.
- The other medal winners in the men's tournament were the Netherlands with silver and Germany with bronze and in the Women's tournament, the Netherlands took silver and Argentina took bronze.
- Pakistan's Sohail ABBAS was leading scorer in the Men's tournament with 11 goals, 10 of them coming from penalty corners.
- In the Women's Tournament, Mijntje DONNERS (NED) and Jenny WILSON (RSA) shared the honours, each having netted five goals.
- Australia's men captured its historic Olympic Games gold medal after a dramatic 2-1 golden goal victory over defending champions the Netherlands. After coming through pool play with three wins and a loss, the strong Australian team were not going to have an easy time of the gold.
- The Dutch, looking to capture its third consecutive gold, were without the services of key player Teun de NOOIJER for most of the second half and extra time, due to an injury. The Dutch came through pool play with maximum points, but in the end, were denied the ultimate prize.
- Germany, the world's number one ranked team, claimed the bronze medal with a 4-3 golden goal win over Spain.
- Germany, like Australia, finished second in the pool in preliminary play, but couldn't make it through the semis.
- Finishing in fourth, Spain was the best team in the tournament not to win a medal, after finishing top of their pool, the Spanish looked to have a strong chance at the final, but like Germany, couldn't make it through the semifinals.
- Fourth place is an improvement on Spain's ninth place at Sydney four years ago, while bronze is Germany's first Men's Olympic Games Hockey medal since it won gold at Barcelona in 1992.
- Earlier on in the day, the last classification matches to determine final rankings were completed.
- New Zealand and Pakistan faced off for fifth and sixth place. Pakistan's penalty corner specialist Sohail ABBAS (PAK) led his side to the higher ranking with a hat trick of set pieces as Pakistan went on to down New Zealand, 4-2.
- New Zealand had a strong performance in its preliminary matches, and its sixth place finish represents its best Olympic Games finish since it won the tournament and the gold at Montreal in 1976, whilst Pakistan's fifth place final ranking is one off its Sydney 2000 finish.
- Korea and India played off for the seventh and eighth spots, with India getting on the board often and early in an eventual 5-2 victory over the Koreans. Four Indian goals in the first half rocked Korea's bid for the seventh ranking.
- India's seventh place finish matched its performance at Sydney four years ago, while Korea's eighth is a dramatic drop from its silver medal at the 2000 Games. The unfortunate Korea actually went from being within four minutes of the semifinal in its last Pool match with Germany to eighth place in less than a week.
- Great Britain needed extra time and penalty strokes to overcome South Africa and earn ninth place.
- A tight match with few clear cut chances ended 1-1 after regulation time and eventually was won on penalty stroke competition.
- Great Britain had an average performance in the pool stage, finishing fifth. Its ninth place finish overall is Great Britain's worst since coming 12th out of 16 in Mexico in 1968, while South Africa's 10th place matched its previous Olympic Games best, when it finished 10th at Atlanta in 1996.
- Egypt and Argentina battled it out to avoid 12th and last place in an open, flowing game of hockey with lots of chances at both ends. A Mario ALMADA (ARG) hat trick eventually helped his side to a 4-2 victory.

- Argentina, who coming into the tournament was seeking a fifth or six place, were down from their 8th spot at Sydney in 2000. Egypt's 12th place finish matches its final position from its last Olympic Hockey participation at Barcelona in 1992.
- The Women's Olympic Hockey Tournament finished on Thursday, 26 August with a determined German team claiming Olympic Games gold for the very first time, four years after finishing seventh in Sydney.
- Germany, also ranked seventh in the world, were the surprise of the tournament, even in the eyes of German Coach, Marcus WEISE: "I totally agree that we had the surprise team in our pool," said WEISE following the 2-1 defeat of the Netherlands in the final. "Our pool was slightly tougher with three excellent teams: China, Argentina and South Africa. We had a very good start, then two defeats, then we just exploded for some reason."
- But Germany's defeat of reigning Olympic champions Australia early in the pool stages would eventually prove to be a taste of things to come, rather than an anomaly. Australia, hampered by injuries coming into the competition, were locked out of the medal matches and a chance to defend their Olympic Games title.
- In a real show of commitment and determination against the Netherlands, a higher ranked and more fancied opponent, Germany made the absolute most of its scoring chances in the final and then successfully defended against wave after wave of Dutch pressure.
- The Dutch, looking impressive and strong throughout the tournament, finished Pool play with maximum points. And after downing world champions Argentina in their semifinal, they looked set to claim their first Olympic Games gold since 1984.
- In their past two Olympic Games, the Netherlands won the bronze medal, and while they've taken a step up here in Athens, are bitterly disappointed at the loss.
- "No, we are not happy with the silver," said Dutch Coach Marc LAMMERS following the defeat. "Maybe tomorrow we will be. But tonight we lost the gold medal."
- World number one ranked Argentina came into the tournament with high hopes for Olympic Games gold to add to its World Cup. After finishing first in its pool, Argentina were defeated in the semifinals on penalty strokes by the Netherlands, but were satisfied to take the bronze with their 1-0, last-minute defeat of China in the other medal match.
- Argentina dominated the first half but found clear cut chances hard to come by, while China grew in confidence and threat as match progressed. Ultimately, a last-minute goal by Luciana Paula AYMAR (ARG) ensured the bronze medal.
- A gracious Sergio VIGIL, Argentina coach, said after the match: "We are very happy with our medal. For us the colour doesn't matter. The most important thing is the team and all the things we had to do to get here."
- China, with its fourth place finish, put on its best-ever Olympic performance, improving by one place on their Sydney 2000 finish. With the next Olympic Games taking place in Beijing, it will be interesting to see how the sport will be developed there in the next four years and whether the Chinese ladies will take a medal at home, as many expected them to do here in Athens.
- Defending Olympic Champions Australia found themselves in a less than familiar position on the final day of the Women's tournament -- out of the medal matches. The Aussies played off against close southern hemisphere rivals, New Zealand, defeating the Kiwis 3-0 to earn the higher ranking. Retiring captain, Katrina POWELL (AUS), led the way for Australia with two goals in her final international match.
- After winning gold in Atlanta (1996) and Sydney (2000), Australia matched its worst-ever Olympic Games finish here in Athens, when they finished fifth in 1992 in Barcelona.
- In contrast, New Zealand matched its sixth-place Sydney Games performance, the best-ever ranking for the Kiwis.
- Two of the three Asian teams in the women's Tournament faced each other on the final day of competition. Japan and Korea played off in the 7th-8th place final, with Korea defeating Japan 3-1 to earn the higher ranking.
- The result means Korea finished in seventh place, two spots better than four years ago in Sydney, while Japan made it eighth place out of 10 for its first Olympic Games campaign.
- South Africa and Spain played off in the 9th-10th classification match. Prior to the start of the women's Tournament, South Africa Coach Ros HOWELL said she was looking for her team to finish "any place but last", which is where they finished in Sydney.
- It would take some effort, but the South Africans eventually prevailed with a golden goal in extra time to defeat Spain for the ninth position.
- Spain's last place doesn't compare well with their fourth spot at the last Olympic Games

Australian pairs hoping for a golden run in Hockey

Beijing, 27 July - The Australian couples of Matthew and Melanie WELLS (AUS), and Stephen and Angela LAMBERT (AUS) believe that the extra support from their partners will help them to success.

Matthew was part of the Men's team that won Gold in the 2004 Athens Olympic Games while Angela was the youngest player in the Women's team that won Gold in the 2000 Sydney Olympic Games.

Melanie, one of the two co-captains (the other Nicole HUDSON) of the Australian Women's team at the Beijing Games and Stephen, who missed the 2004 Athens Olympics through injury, are set to play a big role for both the Australian Men's and Women's teams.

"My highlight in Athens (Olympics) was watching the Men's team win Gold and Matt receiving his medal. We are both retiring after the Games, what more can you do in your career? You cannot ask for more," said Melanie on the prospect of both the Men's and Women's teams winning Gold.

Melanie missed the tour of South Africa and the United Kingdom in October 2007 for her wedding but is now raring to go.

"We had a big year and knew of our possibilities. Some of the girls I would have loved to be there could not go to the wedding, but if I was going to miss a tour or anything, I was glad it was for my wedding," she said.

Matthew feels the same and will be watching each of Melanie's matches and giving her full support.

"This will be our last Olympics and I want to enjoy it with her. We both live in the Olympic Village, so we can have coffee together and get rid of Hockey temporarily. Sometimes she helps me release the pressure," he said.

Stephen, who will be making his Olympic Games debut, has received advice from his wife, Angela who will be making her third Olympic appearance. "She told me it would be a fantastic experience and just to enjoy it."

On whether they discuss Hockey at home, Angela said: "Sometimes it is difficult. We are both tired and our emotions are high when we come home from training or a game but it is always good to have someone at home who understands and who knows what you are going through."

Matthew, Melanie and Angela will be playing in their last Olympics in Beijing and would like to end their careers on a high.

"We look forward to telling our kids one day that both their parents played at the Olympics," added Angela.

The Australian Women's team will begin their campaign on 10 August and the Australian Men's team will begin the defence of their title on 11 August.

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) on Monday announced that it has disqualified FAMILYNAME Givenname (NOC) from the Hockey Men's Tournament of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

Immediately after his participation in the match on 10 August, FAMILYNAME, 23, provided a urine sample that tested positive for the prohibited substance 11-nor-delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol-9-carboxylic acid.

The IOC Disciplinary Commission, composed for this case of Mr Givenname FAMILYNAME (Chairman), Mr Givenname FAMILYNAME and Mr Givenname FAMILYNAME, decided:

Under the IOC Anti-Doping Rules applicable to the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, testing takes place under the IOC's auspices from the opening of the Olympic Village to the Closing Ceremony. Within that period, the IOC systematically performs tests before and after events. After each event, the IOC systematically carries out tests on the top five finishers plus two at random. The IOC also performs out-of-competition unannounced tests. Over the course of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, the IOC is expected to carry out some 5,000 tests - 3,800 urine and 1,200 blood.
