COMPETITION FORMAT AND RULES

VOLLEYBALL

As of 23 JUN 2016

Olympic Competition Format

There will be men's and women's Volleyball events at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games.

The competition for both men and women consists of the following rounds - preliminary round and final round (quarterfinals, semifinals and finals). There will be a total of 38 matches for men and 38 matches for women.

- Preliminary round: Two pools (A and B) composed of six teams each. Single round robin, where every team plays each of the five other teams in their pool.
- Quarterfinals: The first four teams in each preliminary pool will advance to the quarterfinals, eight teams in total. The format will be as follows: A1 vs B4, A4 vs B1 with the pairing for the remaining two matches being drawn (A2 vs B2 or B3, A3 vs B3 or B2).
- Semifinals: The four winners of the quarterfinals will advance to the semifinals. The format will be as follows: winner A1/B4 vs winner A3/B2 (B3), winner A2/B3 (B2) vs winner A4/B1.
- Finals: The winners of the two semifinals will play for the gold and silver medals (gold medal match). The losers of the two semifinals will play for the bronze medal (bronze medal match).

The teams ranked sixth in each pool will be tied as eleventh. The teams ranked fifth in each pool will be tied as ninth. The losers of the quarterfinal matches will be tied as fifth.

Differences between the FIVB World Championships and the Olympic Games

The World Championships is an FIVB competition in which all the member nations have an opportunity to participate in several phases through which 24 teams advance to the final round. The final round of the World Championships is a tournament with 24 teams (men or women) organised by one of the FIVB member nations.

Sport Rules and Procedures

Scoring

With the rally point system (sometimes referred to as RPS) the team winning a rally scores a point regardless of which team is serving. When a team wins a rally, it gains a point and the right to serve. The match format for international Volleyball competitions is the best of five sets to 25 points for sets one to four, and to 15 points for set five, with all sets requiring a two point advantage (unlimited).

At the completion of each match during pool play, the following ranking points will be awarded per match to each team:

Match won 3-0 or 3-1	3 ranking points
Match won 3-2	2 ranking points
Match lost 2-3	1 ranking point
Match lost 0-3 or 1-3	0 ranking points
Match forfeited	0 ranking points (25-0;25-0;25-0)

Ranking in Pools

Ranking in pools will be determined by the total number of ranking points. If a tie occurs during the team ranking process, the tie will be broken as follows:

1. If two or more teams are tied by ranking points, ties will be broken by the number of matches won in the pool
2. If they remain tied, ties will be broken by set ratio (sets won divided by sets lost in the pool matches)
3. If they remain tied, ties will be broken by points ratio (points scored divided by points lost during all sets of the pool matches)

4. If they remain tied, the team which won the last match between them will be ranked higher

When the tie in the points ratio is between three or more teams, a new classification of these teams will be made taking into consideration only the between the tied teams.

During the preliminary round (before the last match of the pool), only the first three pool ranking criteria will be used to establish the temporary rank.

Penalties / Disqualification Rules

A player may be sanctioned for misconduct during a match. A referee may issue a warning, yellow card (penalty e.g. team loses a rally), red card (expulsion for the rest of the set), red and yellow card (disqualification for the rest of the match). A player may be disqualified for one or more matches (decision of the Control Committee).

In the case of major violation of the FIVB rules or a positive drug test, a player will be suspended for the rest of the tournament with no replacement.

Protests / Appeals

Disputes will be resolved under FIVB regulations. The jury will decide on matters submitted to it, in accordance with the FIVB regulations. All protests and appeals must be lodged with the jury in writing no later than 60 minutes after the end of the match. Protests based on the rules of the game will be heard by the refereeing sub-committee and passed on to the jury, accompanied by its decision, no later than six hours after the protest is submitted. A final verdict will be given by the jury no later than 12 hours after the protest is submitted. Jury members of the same nationality as the team making a protest will be excluded from the deliberations when the protest is being studied.

Control Committee

The judges and jury for Volleyball are chosen in accordance with FIVB regulations. The FIVB Board of Administration will appoint 18 control committee members and two technical delegates, who will also perform the duties of Jury of Appeal for Volleyball.

Appointment of Referees

The FIVB will be responsible for appointing all referees and competition officials for Volleyball, 20 international referees from the FIVB pool and two referees from the host international pool. There will be a total of 22 referees for Volleyball.

Game Description

Volleyball is a sport played by two teams on a playing court divided by a net. There are several different versions of the game which make it accessible to everyone.

The object of the game is to send the ball over the net in order to ground it on the opponent's court, and to prevent the opponent from doing the same. Each team has three hits to return the ball (in addition to the block contact).

The ball is put in play with a service hit by the server over the net to the opponents. The rally continues until the ball is grounded on the playing court, goes "out" or a team fails to return it properly.

In Volleyball, the team winning a rally scores a point (Rally Point System). When the receiving team wins a rally, it gains a point and the right to serve, and its players rotate one position clockwise.

Volleyball Rules

The Volleyball competition at the Rio 2016 Olympic Games will be held in accordance with the FIVB Official Volleyball Rules, Edition 2013-2016 and the Olympic Charter in force at that time. Pursuant to Rule 30 of the Olympic Charter, the FIVB assumes the responsibility for technical control and direction of its sport at the Olympic Games. In case of disagreement on the interpretation of these rules or regulations, the English version shall prevail.

The Official Volleyball Rules are available from the FIVB and may be found on the FIVB website <http://www.fivb.org>.

The structure and content of this output is recommended as a baseline for creation of the actual output for Games time.

General Interest

Netherlands comes to the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games as defending Olympic champions, ironically also being the last team to qualify. The team booked its passage to the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games at the final Olympic qualifying tournament in France. They are currently ranked seventh in the world.

The Netherlands team has suffered through some turmoil in the years since their golden triumph, and the unsettled composition of the team has had an adverse effect on their performances.

Master setter Peter BLANGE only returned to the team at last year's Olympic Test Event, while injuries have also disrupted the team.

Several individual players had strong World League campaigns this year, with Guido GORTZEN winning the award for best spiker, while Martin VAN DER HORST was recognised as the best blocker.

Team captain Bas VAN DE GOOR is a dominant middle blocker who has been one of the world's best players at this position over a number of years. Reinder NUMMERDOR will be asked to help keep the Dutch ship afloat with his passing, outside hitting and aggressive serving.

This is not the same Dutch team that won gold in 1996 and silver in 1992, but it is still packed with plenty of talent.

The Dutch would have to significantly improve on their recent performances to threaten the top teams in this tournament, yet the potential for big performances is still lurking. Until they are knocked out of the tournament they remain Olympic champions.

HISTORY VOLLEYBALL

Origin of Volleyball

Volleyball is a ball game which began as a hybrid of tennis and basketball. It was invented in 1895 by William Morgan, a YMCA fitness instructor in Massachusetts, USA, to help middle-aged men who found basketball too strenuous. Originally it involved teams of nine, but in 1918 the current six-a-side game was established, as was the clockwise rotation at service.

Exported overseas by American servicemen, volleyball became popular throughout the world by the end of World War Two. Responding to the increasing awareness of the sport worldwide, the Fédération Internationale de Volleyball (FIVB) was established in 1948.

Volleyball Today

The FIVB has 217 member countries and it is estimated that there are over five billion volleyball players worldwide. The leading male volleyball countries are Italy, Cuba, Brazil, Russian Fed. and the Netherlands. In the women, Cuba, China, Russian Fed. and Brazil are world leaders.

Volleyball has always been a sport prepared to change with the times. The FIVB has regularly altered and updated the rules to encourage exciting play. Most national teams include in their starting line-ups a setter, two centre blockers, two receive hitters and a universal spiker. Only certain players are involved with service reception and there are specialist positions for attack and defence.

Competition at the international level now includes the FIVB-supported World League (for men), which began in 1990. The Women's World Grand Prix and the World League involve ten teams and millions of dollars in prize money.

Volleyball at the Olympic Games

Volleyball made its Olympic Games debut in Tokyo in 1964, with the Soviet Union winning the men's gold medal and the Japanese women being crowned as champions in front of their home crowd. Since then, volleyball has continued to witness the rise and fall of the great international teams, with countries as diverse as Cuba, Brazil, the Soviet Union, China, the United States, the Netherlands, Poland and Japan collecting gold medals.

On pressure in Cuba to win:

"I think there was typical pressure from the sports movement. Yesterday, everyone got up to watch the game, its an Olympic event that's of huge importance. This is a great encouragement for us all."

"Volleyball in our country is a very established sport. We will train and work hard and perhaps we will see different aspects of volleyball being played."

SPORT PREVIEW

VOLLEYBALL

News Item: 25

Men's Tournament:

- One of the strongest fields assembled for men's volleyball will contest the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games and predicting a winner is extremely difficult.
- The Italians must start favourite. In the past decade they have dominated international men's volleyball and they are in good form after winning the World League for a record eighth time.
- The only thing missing is the elusive Olympic gold, but there are plenty of other teams ready to pounce if the Italians should stumble.
- The Russian Federation recently established itself as second favourite. The Russian Federation has a long former history of success at the Olympic Games and are striving to return to their glory years. Much depends on one of their young stars, Roman IAKOVLEV. If he steps up to another level at the Olympic Games, the Russian Federation will be hard to beat.
- Netherlands, the reigning Olympic champion, is the dark horse of the games. Peter BLANGE has returned to the team and with him the confidence of 1996. After a slow start to their World League campaign, they finished with solid victories over Italy and the USA. Netherlands' biggest advantage is that it knows how to win at the Olympic Games.
- Serbia, Cuba, Brazil and the USA are capable of winning the gold medal. Serbia, in particular, looks to be primed to achieve Olympic Games glory. Nikola GRBIC leads a well -balanced side that has great ball control.
- Spain, Argentina and Korea do not look capable of winning a medal, but they could decide who does. Korea lifts its rating at the Olympic Games and could provide a few upsets. Spain had one of the best players in the world in Rafael PASCUAL and he will control the Spaniards' destiny.
- Australia is a newcomer to this level of international play led by Dan HOWARD, Ben HARDY and captain David BEARD. Anything is possible in front of a home crowd, but don't expect miracles.
- The new rally point scoring system has added a new dimension to international competition, increasing the likelihood of upsets. The Sydney 2000 Olympic Games will be no exception.

Women's Tournament:

- The mighty Cuban women's volleyball team comes to Sydney in quest of an unprecedented third consecutive Olympic gold medal - but facing a stern challenge from the Russian Federation and Brazilian squads. These three teams appear set to dominate the two-week competition, with the Chinese also being capable of joining the top bracket of teams.
- Just below this top echelon is a very evenly matched group of teams who will showcase different strengths and styles of game. The technically precise Koreans will exploit any weaknesses in their opposition, but probably lack the firepower to upset the very elite teams.
- Croatia boasts one of the world's most dominant hitters in Barbara JELIC, but lacks the depth to capitalise on her prodigious talents. Germany comes to Sydney with an excellent blend of youth and experience, with Angelina GRUEN complementing Susanne LAHME and Christina SCHULTZ, but limited preparation may take its toll on coach LEE Hee Wan's unit.
- The United States arrives with a young and talented team who may be still one or two years away from joining the very top bracket of international teams, while Peru come with sound credentials but remain something of an unknown quantity.
- Italy has developed an athletic, well skilled team, but still has not quite reached the level of Cuba, the Russian Federation or Brazil.
- Olympic debutantes Australia and Kenya will view these games as a stepping stone toward developing their volleyball programs of the future. The very young Australian team has improved dramatically over the last twelve months and may cause headaches for some teams, particularly with their strong blocking. The Kenyan team contains some excellent athletes who hit the ball hard, but problems with ball control and a lack of height will be hard to overcome at this level.

- The battle for the gold medal should provide some fascinating volleyball. The advent of rally point scoring and the increasing parity among the top teams introduces greater unpredictability and makes it extremely likely that many games will feature very tight results.
- Cuba returns the same unit that dominated last year's World Cup and this year's Grand Prix tournament. The emergence of Yumilka RUIZ as the heir apparent to Mireya LUIS at outside hitter position means that the team is as complete as ever.
- Cuba will still be the only team to play a two-setter system, with World Cup Most Valued Player Taimaris AGUERO and Marlenis COSTA running the show. The awesome centre-blocking tandem of Ana FERNANDEZ and Regla TORRES will still intimidate opposing hitters. The all round talents of Regla BELL, combined with the depth provided by talents such as Mirka FRANCIA and the incomparable LUIS coming off the bench, make anything less than a gold medal seem a stretch. Beneath all the athleticism and skill it has been the competitive nature of the Cubans, their refusal to lose, that has been the hallmark of their dynasty. They have consistently found a way to win the big points and the big games when the pressure is at its greatest.
- Master Russian Federation coach Nikolai KARPOL has assembled a worthy challenger to the Cubans with this edition of the Russian Federation team. The tall Russian Federation will dominate teams with their blocking power, and will be hoping to nullify the Cuban offence through their height at the net. The outstanding individual play of Lioubov CHACHKOVA drives this unit, which has played close games with the Cubans in recent competitions, but has fallen just short when it matters. A more varied Russian Federation offence should improve their attacking efficiency.
- The team that could really light up this tournament is the sparkling Brazilian outfit. They possess the dynamic athleticism and the fighting spirit to challenge both the Cuban and Russian Federation juggernauts. Consistently finishing just short of major finals, the Brazilians arrive in Sydney hungry for success and recognition. Veteran setter Helia SOUZA will feed an offence rejuvenated by young guns Erika COIMBRA, Elisangela OLIVEIRA and Walewska OLIVEIRA. The return of Virna DIAS, who missed the Grand Prix through injury will strengthen this team. Veterans Janina CONCEICAO and Leila BARROS round out a team that is capable of blowing all others off the court.
- The Chinese team have to be included in the list of possible champions on the strength of their impeccable pedigree and the talent in their squad, but they have not produced their best play too often recently. If SUN Yue, LI Yan and newcomer CHEN Jing all produce their best in the spotlight of the Olympics China could still make it to the medal podium.
- A great two weeks of volleyball can be expected, but the indications are that the girls from Brazil are capable of upstaging the more fancied Cuban and Russian Federation teams and will leave Sydney with the gold medal and the glory of Olympic champions.

PRELIMINARY ROUND
SUN 7 AUG

News Item: 524

Spain vs Egypt

- The men's volleyball competition opens on Sunday with African champions Egypt taking on the strong Spanish team, one of Europe's toughest combinations.
- Egypt are an athletic, hard hitting team, but they may find themselves a bit out of their depth against the Spanish, one of Europe's toughest combinations.
- Spain's offence will be led by Rafael PASCUAL, a dominant outside hitter set to be a tournament star.

Korea vs Italy

- The second match at Pavilion four in Sydney Olympic Park sees the World Champion Italian team, who have dominated men's volleyball for the last decade, take on the emerging Korean team.
- The Italians have adopted a very low profile in the build up to this tournament, preferring to train away from official venues. Coach Andrea ANASTASI must feel confident that his very experienced squad will be ready for action, and they will need to be.
- The Koreans have looked particularly strong in training, and have super libero LEE Ho to blunt the aggressive jump serving of the Italians, led by Andrea SARTORETTI's thunderbolts.
- The Italians will enjoy a significant advantage in size and experience, but expect the Korean team to make them work very hard for an opening victory. This should be a great game.

Russian Federation vs Serbia

- Action at the Sydney Entertainment Centre opens with a classic match-up which may possibly even be a preview of the gold medal match.
- The Russian Federation team, victorious at last year's World Cup, clash with Atlanta bronze medallists Serbia. This game features two teams who complement great skills with height and enormous power.
- Both teams will serve very aggressively, with Serbia's Goran VUJEVIC and the Russian Federation's Roman IAKOVLEV possessing two of the world's toughest jump serves.
- In the cut throat Pool B there is very little room for error, and the loser of this match will find themselves under enormous pressure for the rest of the preliminary rounds.
- Serbian setter Nikola GRBIC will need to solve the riddle of the Russian Federation's huge block through a varied and intelligent distribution of sets. Fortunately he has no shortage of hitters to utilise. Expect superb volleyball and a titanic struggle.

Cuba vs Netherlands

- Defending Olympic champions the Netherlands begin their defence against a Cuban team which comes to Sydney expecting a medal. This is another game with enormous ramifications for pool placings.
- The Netherlands have struggled to recapture their form of the last few years, but any team with Peter BLANGE, Bas van de GOOR and Guido GORTZEN in their starting line-up has to be respected.
- The well established Cuban nucleus features emerging star Angel DENIS alongside veteran setter Raul DIAGO and middles Pavel PIMENTA and Ihosvany HERNANDEZ. If the service reception of the Cuban team holds up they should have too many offensive options for the Dutch to handle, and they should open this Olympic campaign with a win over the defending champions.

United States vs Argentina

- The US take on Argentina in a game which coach Doug BEAL has labelled as very dangerous for his team. The experience of the Argentineans and their well balanced attack are obstacles for BEAL and his team to overcome.
- Argentina will look to standout hitter Marcos MILINKOVIC to lead their assault.

- The US has looked very potent in training, with George ROUMAIN set to stamp his mark on the tournament. The only question hanging over the US is their service reception, so the pressure will be on libero Erik SULLIVAN and the team's other receivers to produce quality passing for setter Lloy BALL. The US should have too many guns for the South Americans.

Australia vs Brazil

- The final game of the day's action sees first-timers Australia meet the powerful and experienced Brazilian team.
- Brazil is another team with real claims to gold medal aspirations, and the Australians can expect a torrid time.
- Brazil are arguably the most explosive jump serving team in world volleyball, and the Australian reception, which has looked shaky in training, will be under immense pressure. Poor passing eliminates the Australian team's most potent offensive weapon, in middle hitter Dan HOWARD, and could make it a tough baptism for Australia in the Olympic arena.
- If the passing holds up, Australia will be confident of producing a very competitive performance.

GOLD MEDAL MATCH

News Item: 1223

Serbia (SRB)-Russian Federation (RUS) 3-0 (25-22, 25-22, 25-20)

- Serbia won the Sydney 2000 Olympic Games volleyball gold medal by resoundingly crushing the Russian Federation 25-22, 25-22, 25-20 to end a frustrating run of near misses in major competitions, having won bronze at Atlanta and silver at the 1998 World Championships.
- Both sides began nervously and unleashed very aggressive serving, which although producing several service aces provoked a large number of faults. Neither side was able to establish a clear lead, and the scores were locked at 21-21. But a service ace from young star Ivan MILJKOVIC (SRB), followed by a Russian Federation hitting error, saw the Serbs snatch the decisive break they needed. Another hitting error from the Russian Federation gave the set to Serbia.
- Serbia began to take control in the second set and they raced to an 8-3 lead. The jump serving of MILJKOVIC and Goran VUJEVIC (SRB) was causing enormous problems for the Russian Federation, and they could not find any offensive rhythm. The Russian Federation coaches desperately sought answers, substituting freely in a bid to find a combination that could attack efficiently.
- It looked like the substitutions would pay off, with the gap closing to 16-14. Igor CHOULEPOV and Alexei KOULECHOV stabilised the Russian Federation, and two Serb errors saw the scores level at 17. Runs of points had characterised the set though, and three successive points saw the Serbs within sight of a two set lead. The Russian Federation's big gun, Roman IAKOVLEV, had another inconsistent game, and was substituted with the score 20-17.
- The Serbs again won the critical points, this time with great defence giving them transition points, and a key block when the scores were locked at 22 all.
- The third set began with the Russian Federation starting another combination of players, still unable to find the key to playing effectively. Their passing was just not working, and intermittent blocks were keeping them in touch without giving them an edge. IAKOVLEV and Ilia SAVELIEV had error-ridden performances.
- A string of blocks and some more Russian Federation errors saw the Serbs establish a clear ascendancy. An inspirational defensive save and recovery to block for a point by Vladimir GRBIC (SRB) only added to the Serbian momentum. The Russian Federation team, so strong all week, unravelled, and the Serbs had realised their gold medal dream.
- Serbia was superbly balanced, with key contributions from all starters. MILJKOVIC confirmed himself as the future of Serbian volleyball with another pivotal performance, while master setter Nikola GRBIC orchestrated the Serb game plan perfectly. Vladimir GRBIC, the heart and soul of this team, supplied the leadership needed at decisive moments.
- The Russian Federation did not produce their best volleyball when it was most needed.

PRELIMINARY ROUND
SUN 7 AUG

News Item: 675

Spain vs Egypt 3-0

- In the first match of the day Spain took on Egypt.
- The Egyptian team struggled to find any consistency and, despite showing glimpses of excellent play, went down in straight sets, 25-20, 25-10, 25-21.
- Spain, with stars Rafael PASCUAL and Enrique de la FUENTE, was too steady for the African champions.
- Star spiker PASCUAL dominated the Egyptians, hitting winners from most positions on the court.

Korea vs Italy 0-3

- Italy began its journey towards an elusive Olympic Games gold medal with a hard-fought victory over Korea 27-25, 25-23, 25-18.
- The game saw Italy's powerful spiking pitted against the fast, precise Korean offence. Korea, led by KIM Se-Jin's spiking, immediately put the Italians under pressure. Italian Andrea SARTORETTI created headaches for the Korean line-up. One of his serves was clocked at 114 kph.
- SARTORETTI was assisted by Luigi MASTRANGELO's outside hitting and Alessandro FEI's dominance in the middle.
- Korea dazzled the crowd with its defensive play, LEE Ho, in particular, made several spectacular saves but, in the end, the Koreans were outclassed by the current world champions.

Russian Federation vs Serbia 3-1

- At the Sydney Entertainment Centre, the Russian Federation was too powerful and too consistent for Serbia, winning in four sets 19-25, 25-23, 25-23, 25-20.
- The Russian Federation combined outstanding service, most notably from Roman IAKOVLEV, with intimidating defence to emerge victorious.
- Serbian setter Nikola GRBIC was forced to set outside too often and the Serbian spikers struggled to put the ball away for winners against the well-formed Russian Federation blocks and back court defence.
- Serbia lost its way in the fourth set, committing several critical unforced errors.
- The closeness of the second and third sets emphasised the fine line between victory and defeat under the rally point scoring system.

Cuba vs Netherlands 0-3

- The Netherlands showed that it has no intention of quietly relinquishing its Olympic crown when it dispatched the highly-fancied Cuba in three sets 25-22, 25-20, 25-23.
- The match featured spectacular play at the net from both teams, with Dutch captain Bas van de GOOR producing a vintage display to set the standard for his team.
- The Cubans were guilty of too many careless errors; serving out too often and committing net faults at crucial moments. The high quality of much of their play was wasted by these undisciplined errors.

United States vs Argentina 1-3

- USA coach Doug BEAL's pre-match fears were well-founded as Argentina upset the United States in four sets, 24-26, 25-23, 25-21, 25-18, in their Olympic preliminary match on Sunday.
- Argentinean captain Marcos MILINKOVIC was the driving force behind the victory, leaving America without an answer to his powerful spikes and serving.
- Raul SPAJIC helped MILINKOVIC dominate the opposition at the net.

- Ryan MILLAR was outstanding for the Americans, while key hitter George ROUMAIN contributed strongly, without ever finding a dominating rhythm.
- The USA now faces a huge task to get its medal campaign back on track when it takes on the formidable Russian Federation team.

Australia vs Brazil

- Brazil proved much too strong for Australia in the final match of the day, winning comfortably 25-13, 25-14, 25-21.
- The Australians started nervously in front of a large and vocal crowd, but settled down by the end of the match, with Dan HOWARD and Hidde (Shane) van BEEST attacking strongly.
- The powerful Brazilians were masterfully guided by setter Mauricio LIMA, with Giba GODOY FILHO and Douglas CHIAROTTI too powerful for the Australians. If the passing holds up, Australia will be confident of producing a very competitive performance.

VOLLEYBALL

Men's Tournament:

- Australia and Great Britain were eliminated from pool A in the preliminary stages. Great Britain never really found their feet in their volleyball debut at an Olympic Games and did not win a set. The Volleyroos of Australia, however, played superbly in patches, and beat Poland in one of the tournament's big surprise results. Bulgaria topped the pool, with Tsvetan SOKOLOV (BUL) standing out. Poland, Italy and Argentina edged through at the expense of Australia.
- Pool B was tough, containing world No.1 Brazil, No.2 Russia and Beijing 2008 Olympic Games champions USA, who were ranked No.5, as well as Germany, Serbia and Tunisia. USA finished first in the pool with some style, with Clayton STANLEY (USA) and Matthew ANDERSON (USA) in starring roles. Russia, Brazil and Germany also progressed to the knockout stages.
- In the quarterfinals, Bulgaria thrashed Germany 3-0, with some strong spikes from SOKOLOV (BUL). Russia easily dispatched Poland, as Maxim MIKHAYLOV (RUS) showed his class. Brazil beat Argentina 3-0 in a South American clash thanks to a true team performance, and Italy pulled off a genuine surprise, effortlessly eliminating USA 3-0.
- The first semifinal saw MIKHAYLOV (RUS) outmuscle SOKOLOV (BUL), with Russia beating Bulgaria 3-1 in a battle of sheer power. In the second semifinal, Brazil's numerous spikers performed at their best as they outclassed Italy, with Murilo ENDRES (BRA) leading the way.
- The bronze medal match was a tense, tight affair, as Italy took the first set and Bulgaria battled back in the second. But led by captain Cristian SAVANI (ITA), and with Michal LASKO (ITA) and Ivan ZAYTSEV (ITA) chipping in when needed, Italy won the bronze medal 3-1, leaving Bulgaria to finish fourth.
- In the final, Brazil started the match superbly and won the first two sets with ease. ENDRES (BRA) set the tone for Brazil, playing a great first set in attack and defence and Wallace DE SOUZA (BRA) seemed to relish playing an Olympic final. Russia fought hard in the third set on the back of Dmitriy MUSERSKIY's (RUS) finest match of the tournament and after saving two gold medal points, Russia found a way to win the third set 29-27.
- Russia continued their resurgence in the fourth set, winning 25-22. MUSERSKIY was in control as Russia refused to allow Brazil back into the match. They won the fifth set 15-9 and the match 3-2 (19-25, 20-25, 29-27, 25-22, 15-9) to take the gold medal. It was heartbreak for Brazil, who had also lost in the final in Beijing.

Women's Tournament:

- The Brazilians came back from a set down to win 3-1 (11-25, 25-17, 25-20, 25-17) at Earls Court on Saturday 11 August to repeat their Beijing 2008 victory over USA.
- USA started strongly and looked like maintaining an unbeaten run in the tournament as they powered to a first-set win. But Brazil came back momentously as captain Sheilla CASTRO, Thaisa MENEZES, Fabiana CLAUDINO and Jaqueline CARVALHO all scored heavily for the champions.
- Algeria and Great Britain were eliminated from pool A after the preliminary matches. Algeria were poor, losing every match, while the Britons will view the tournament as a success after beating Algeria to record a win at their first Olympic Games. Russia topped pool A, winning all five matches as Ekaterina GAMOVA and Nataliya GONCHAROVA spiked brilliantly. Japan, Italy and Dominican Republic also reached the quarterfinals.
- In pool B, world No.1 USA were unstoppable, winning all five matches. Captain and setter Lindsey BERG was inspirational, and Destinee HOOKER scored well. Korea, who had the standout player of the tournament in KIM Yeon-Koung, and China also qualified. Brazil looked erratic, but scraped through in fourth place. Turkey and a poor Serbia side were eliminated.
- The quarterfinals were extremely exciting. Brazil knocked out Russia 3-2 after saving six match points in the deciding set. Japan recorded a rare 3-2 victory over China, also saving a match point in a thriller of a final set. Korea beat Italy 3-1 after KIM Yeon- Koung (KOR) put on one of the most outstanding individual performances of the tournament, and an efficient USA crushed the Dominican Republic 3-0.

- In the semifinals, favourites USA eased past Korea 3-0, with Destinee HOOKER (USA) outstanding, and Brazil proved too strong against a brave Japan, winning 3-0, with Sheilla CASTRO (BRA) playing impeccably.
- In the bronze medal match, Japan beat Korea in straight sets (25-22, 26-24, 25-21). Saori KIMURA (JPN) and Saori SAKODA (JPN) spiked with aggression to help win the match. KIM Yeon-Koung, was on form, but could not do enough to get her team a medal. SAKODA was top scorer with 23 points.
